Apprenticeship as IT specialist for system integration (m/f/d)

Description

+++NETWORK NINJA +++

How about knowing every day when you get up that your work really counts. You are the one who makes sure that the technology runs like a well-oiled gearbox. This is the world of IT specialists for system integration at DENKINGER.

You immerse yourself in a world where problems are not seen as obstacles, but as challenges. An error in the system? This is your chance to shine. With an affinity for technology, mathematical understanding and good communication skills, you will find solutions that last.

And the best part? You are never alone. You work in a team that is just as enthusiastic about technology as you are. Together, you keep logistics running and form the bridge between modern IT and the daily requirements of an international logistics company. Welcome to DENKINGER.
